Keys and tools for journeying into the unknown

We all seek freedom but freedom lies in our surrender to the unknown and this is the challenge we face. How do we surrender to the unknown? For even when we believe that we have surrendered to the unknown we find that we subtly control the outcome.

This was a two day workshop that took place in my home in Los Angeles Saturday and Sunday-January 18th and 19th 2014

In this two day event I shared what I have discovered and continue to discover. Profound tools to free myself in a way that I had not done before. This has been a fascinating experience, a profound journey into the unknown. It is not for the faint of heart. It was my pleasure to share this with those who are feeling ready to take this journey.

Just a few highlights of what was discussed. There was so much more!

The whole idea of what we think reality is, is really a series of programs that we have all come to believe in and to accept.

1. From birth to death
 2. Our moral codes
 3. Our ethics of right and wrong
- CRYSTALIZING PATTERNS
 - CONSEQUENCES
 - ECONOMIC SYSTEM
 - ECONOMIC FORMULA
 - NUMERIC VALUE is a program
