Stepping into "Star Trek" technology, the new paradigm

Description

After years of speaking about evolving technology of robots/AI and computers it is now an undeniable fact that we are stepping into "Star Trek" technology, the new paradigm" My approach has always been from an insightful perspective with the intention of arming ourselves with knowledge. Sharing and examining this information is never about fear. The information is however being presented to those who have a genuine interest, curiosity and openness to more clearly understand this virtual game that we are part of.

Computers now range from simple processing systems to operating from a level of intelligence in the form of both computerized machines/technology and robotics. Only a brief summary of the talk is being shared here.

What is AI?

Define intelligence

What is consciousness?

How does your idea of spirituality fit into this evolving technology?

Are we simply data interface?

And so much more!
